'Expressions' Report

The Editorial Club of St. Cecilia's Public School organized a competition titled 'Expressions' on 12.10.2022 in the school premises. Students of classes XI and XII participated in it.

Students had to express their opinion on the topic – Startups can solve/reduce the problem of unemployment – in one and a half to two minutes. Three students from each section of XI and XII took active part. Students were well-researched and confident while keeping their view in front of everyone. They shed light on numerous well-known startups that grew by leaps and bounds in the past few years. Moreover, the challenges with regard to opening startups and maintaining them were addressed too.

Overall, it was an enriching and motivating session for everyone present there. With fresh information and new knowledge about a topic that is truly relatable to the students and the youth, it proved to be beneficial.
