Editorial Club
Extempore Competition
Senior Wing
(Classes IX and XII)

The Editorial Club of St. Cecilia's Public School conducted an Extempore Competition for the students of classes IX and XII on 12.04.2024.

The agenda of the competition was to instil confidence in the young minds to speak without fear in front of a gathering on topics of relevance. There were three participants from each section of IX and XII and every participant was assigned the topic approximately two minutes before their turn so that they could bring forth significant arguments on the given theme.

Some of the topics were:

- Life was better when technology was simple
- Lessons to learn from sports
- Family values
- Should children's reality shows be banned?, etc
- How can we reduce poverty?

By preparing within a span of two minutes, students offered their valuable insights on their topics. They related the themes with real life situations and in some cases, with their personal experiences to make it engaging and realistic.

The event culminated with the judges announcing the judgement:

Class IX -

1st position - Eknoor Kaur IX D

2nd position - Joel Saini IX B

3rd position - Komalchitt Nanda IX A

Class XII -

1st position - Amaira Singh XII A

2nd position - Vansh Gupta XII D2

3rd position - Gurvansh Singh XII C
