"You must be the change you wish to see in the world"

Even today the power of Gandhiji's words inspire us to change the world by changing ourselves. Gandhiji, known as the Father of the Nation stands as an apostle of peace, truth and non-violence. He is lovingly called "Bapu". His contribution in the freedom struggle of India is beyond description in words. We celebrate his birthday and Lal Bahadur Shastri's birthday( the second Prime Minister of India) on 2$^{nd}$ October every year.

This year also our school organized a virtual celebration of this great national festival. Various activities were organized under the banner of "Ek Bharat Sresth Bharat" (CBSE), for the students to display their hidden talent. The main purpose of such activities was to instill in the students a sense of nationalism and patriotism. Also to make them aware of the sacrifices made by many known and unknown and unsung freedom fighters.

The cultural activity began with a prayer.ThenMadam Principal addressedthe students with her insightful and thought-provoking speech. The students were ready with their activities which consisted of express yourself, patriotic poetry recitation, patriotic song, instrumental music related to the theme, performing an act related to places of freedom, freedom fighters, art activities such as sketches and collages of Gandhiji and other freedom fighters etc. A quiz was also conducted to create general awareness amongst the students. Some students also presented power point presentations on both Mahatma Gandhi and Shri. Lal Bahadur Shastri.

The entire activity was lively and the students participated with great zeal and enthusiasm. The teachers briefed the students about the interesting incidents from our struggle for independence. They were also advised to follow the principles of Gandhiji in their daily life.The students were proud of their country and its achievements and pledged to work for the betterment of our India.
