Kudos to the Science prodigies of St Cecilia's Public School, as they paint the world of Science Talent exams with colourful hues. Recently, In KAMP- NASTA (National Assessment for Scientific Temperament & Aptitude) which is initiated by the CSIR-National Institute of Science Technology and Development Studies (NISTADS) to help students in developing their best talent, 75 students participated to make their presence felt.

The Online Exam NASTA assessed the students based on their reasoning ability, logical thinking and subjects based comprehension as per their class. It was a moment of pride as Rashmeet Kaur, Aniruddh V.K, Jas Kamra, Bhumika Aggarwal and Saksham Goel of Class IX 2020-21 and Harkirat Kaur of Class X 2020-21 were awarded A+ grade in the exam. The students were also awarded medals and certificates for the same. 17 more students were awarded with A grade while all 75 students received participation certificates.

Madam Principal congratulated the students and the teacher incharges for the meritorious achievements. Madam Principal encouraged the students to further develop their creativity, meaningful learning, critical learning and thinking skills that will enable to bring out the inherent abilities of students.
